

Crivei Ioana-Cristina

Doctor of Veterinary Medicine

Department XI Public Health

Faculty of Veterinary Medicine

In my position as a university assistant, I actively engage in the study and application of legislation and protocols aimed at safeguarding the health and welfare of animals, as well as ensuring the safety of food products derived from animals. In the future, I aspire to actively engage in the education and development of future experts in the sector, as well as contribute to the improvement of techniques for identifying and managing foodborne diseases and contaminants.
